

About Us

An inherent love for textile and fabrics gave birth to “Royal Touch” in 1988 with two principal objectives. A dress is designed on paper but to bring it to life, the first step is choosing the correct fabric. Our fabrics are rich to the touch and gorgeously royal. Thus, making our customers feel equally regal is our first objective.

Secondly, we deeply believe in providing quality products and services to our customers. “Agar Customer Khush To Hum Khush” is our motto.

Our collections of elegant and designer fabrics represent the Indian tradition in its true form. We deal in various types of natural as well as man-made fabrics ranging from Cotton, Silk, Chanderi, Khadi, Tussar, Linen and many other blended fabrics. We are known for high quality and a variety of unmatched designs of the products. We also have a unique clothing line for menswear showcasing exquisite designs manufactured with the help of our vast in house fabrics.

Our Mission

We have recently embarked on a mission to revive the art of hand-weaving and celebrate it like it once was. We hope to bring it to the center stage. Our love for this classic technique is what encourages us to support the weavers of this old and a diminishing art form of hand weaving, inculcating their personal craftsmanship and stories. We strive to re-ignite their pride and engage the next generation of weavers to continue these traditions. And it's not just the weavers but all the artisans involved in the whole value chain starting from the spinners, dyers, embroidery workers and many more need to get the attention they deserve.

India has a well established history of textile industry, with Bengal being the host of the first textile mill of the country near Calcutta in 1818. Many ups and downs, and textile based technological achievements later, today India's textile industry is one of the most versatile and sought after in the world. We are trying to do our bit to keep the traditions alive, and hope that you will support us in our endeavour.

Welcome to Royal Touch Fabrics. Happy Shopping!

